

The 73rd TOPIK (Test of Proficiency in Korean) Notice

Korean Education Center in Washington DC

□ What is the TOPIK test?

The TOPIK test, Test of Proficiency in Korean, is a written test designed to measure the ability of non-native speakers for expression and comprehension in the Korean language.

The TOPIK test measures proficiency in reading, writing, and listening comprehension in the Korean language. According to their level of Korean language proficiency, test takers can take one of the two types of TOPIK, TOPIK I for beginners and TOPIK II for intermediate and advanced level learners.

□ Who administers the TOPIK Test?

The Korean Ministry of Education is responsible for the general management of the test, such as supervising institutions administering the test in domestic and overseas locations.

The National Institute for International Education handles the scheduling & issuance of testing management guidance, development of the test, printing and distribution of test sheets, and the scoring of test results.

The Korean Education Center in Washington DC (KECDC afterwards) administers the annual test at the request of the above institutions for test takers in the 4 states, Washington DC, Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia.

※ Information in detail is on TOPIK website (www.topik.go.kr).

□ For whom is the TOPIK intended?

This comprehensive test is intended for non-native speakers of Korean, such as Korean language learners, international students who want to study in Korea as well as individuals who would like to work in Korean companies and public institutions. The test also serves as an excellent opportunity to receive formal certification for those who expect to use Korean in their careers.

□ How can I register for the TOPIK Test?

In the Washington DC metropolitan area, KECDC will host the annual TOPIK. The 73rd TOPIK test will be administered on Saturday, November 14th, 2020. Residents in Washington DC, Maryland, Virginia, or West Virginia can apply for the TOPIK by submitting an application form along with a check of $35 for TOPIK I, $40 for TOPIK II (issued payable to Korean Education Center) to KECDC by mail or in person.

※ Applicants can download the application form at KECDC website (www.kecdc.org).

Application must be submitted by September 4th, 2020. The identification slip will be delivered to the applicant before the test date. The above mentioned processing fee will not be refunded unless the test is cancelled.

□ Notice for the applicants

- ✓ Applicants are requested to bring the identification slip and valid photo identification such as a passport or driver's license to the test site. The name and birthday on your application must match those on the identification.
- ✓ Applicants should wear a mask before entering the test site and should not take it off without permission of the test supervisors.
- ✓ Test supervisors will take each applicant's temperature before entering test site, and any applicant with high fever (100.4°F/38°C or higher) or other COVID-19 related symptoms including cough or difficulty breathing can't enter the test site nor take the test.
- ✓ Only the pen distributed at the test site can be used when you mark or write your answers on the answer sheet. Lightly or partly marked answers might not be read by the scoring machine.
- ✓ Both the test papers and answer sheets must be returned after the test.
- ✓ Books, dictionaries, papers, notes, electronic watches, mobile phones, listening devices, recording or photographic equipment, or aids of any kind are not allowed in the testing room, so they should be submitted to the test supervisor before the test starts if, by any chance, you have any of them with you on the test day.
- ✓ Test supervisors have the authority to dismiss test takers from a test session, or scores may be canceled, due to the violations of any regulations for the test. For example, attempting to take the test for someone else, using any aids in connection with the test, or failing to follow any of the test regulations given by the test supervisors.
